5. PROCEDURE

- 5.1 All members of staff are employed to work and perform as per contracts of employment and/or their performance contracts and to uphold the firm’s reputation to its key stakeholders. Accordingly, any act (either of commission or omission) whose effect is under-performance on the part of the employee or is to tarnish the image of the company shall be censured.
- 5.2 All members of staff shall be deemed to be fully conversant with the company’s Employment Regulations, Policies and Procedures as shall apply (and be amended) from time to time. It shall therefore not be a valid defense to plead ignorance of these.
- 5.3 Employees shall have an unfettered right to representation on matters of discipline and grievance handling. Such representation shall be in terms of the code of conduct and grievance handling procedures in force within the organisation.
- 5.4 Notwithstanding the practice of worker participation in matters of discipline and grievance handling, it shall and remains management responsibility to administer discipline and to resolve employee grievances. Disciplinary Authority or Committees are there to assist management and not to substitute them. Management shall therefore be held accountable for any errors of commission or omission with regards to employee discipline.
- 5.5 The handling of disciplinary and grievance cases must be done speedily for the benefit of both the company and Employee(s). It shall therefore be incumbent on all management staff to expedite disciplinary and grievance within the time limits and guidelines set in the relevant documents.
- 5.6 Employee representatives are entitled to represent employees but only on legitimate grounds. Such representations shall therefore be within confines of and in keeping with the firm’s rules and regulations
- 5.7 Dispute and conflict prevention, and that includes the prevention of indiscipline and grievances, is better than cure. Accordingly, all management staff are required to manage and otherwise handle staff and staff matters in such a way as to prevent and minimize disputes and conflicts.

INDUCTION PROGRAM GUIDE

Induction training helps new trainees or workers to fit in quickly and easily. It is intended to enable the new starter to become a useful, integrated member of the team, rather than being "thrown in at the deep end" without understanding how to do their job, or how their role fits in with the rest of the company. First impressions count, so the arrival of new a trainee or employee has to be planned to make them feel welcome. This is not just a quick hello but sufficient time to get acquainted and understand what they are expected to do. Also look upon induction training as the first stage in identifying training needs

Induction Trainer Guidelines

1. An introduction to other employees.
2. Tour of the building, pointing out fire exits, bathrooms, meeting rooms, boardrooms, kitchen, useful offices such as support staff, administration staff etc.
3. Provide any training materials if necessary.
4. Give a formal introduction of the company, to include:
 - Company structure, Outline the organizational chart and reporting structures.

 - Other aspects of the organization, as relevant.
5. Give Inductee information about the company rules, code of conduct and general procedures.
 - Health and safety.
 - Company property
 - General behavior and dress code
 - Absenteeism and lateness
 - Courtesies - protocol, etiquette
 - Time and attendance system
 - Access to buildings, security.
6. Expectations of the Managing Director for the incumbent.
7. Expectations of the employee from the company.

DISCIPLINARY HEARING OUTCOME FOR FARAI JAKATA

DATE: 11 OCTOBER 2018

VENUE: INTELLEGO , Block D, Smatsatsa, Borrowdale Road, Harare

TIME: 1145

Heard before me;

KENNEDY VENGESAYI sitting as a Disciplinary Authority (DA) in terms of Schedule B of SI 35 of 2018. Present:

Complainant: Leornard Paswairi

Defendant: Farai Jakata

Company Representative: Nesbert Jacob

Secretariat: Hazel Mavhunga

Background

Mr Farai Jakata who is employed by INTELLEGO and stationed at its Bulawayo branch was brought before a disciplinary hearing. This followed his suspension without pay and benefits on 5th October 2019. This followed allegations of breaching two provisions of the Code of Conduct namely:

- i. Schedule B Clause 3 (b) (ii) of SI 35/11- 'wilful disobedience to a lawful order given by the employer or a person legally placed in authority above him'.
- ii. Schedule B Clause 3 (b) (vi) of SI 35/11- 'absence from work for a period of 5 or more working days without reasonable excuse'.

Preliminary Issues

Parties appeared before the DA without representation and/or witnesses. The Defendant said he was free and willing to proceed without his representative. The Complainant said he was not going to call any witnesses.

There were no other issues the parties brought to the attention of the DA.

Agreed Facts

The following is a set of agreed facts by the parties:

- i. The Defendant was transferred to Harare from Bulawayo with 'immediate effect'.
- ii. The Defendant was not paid relocation allowance and salary for the period he was on suspension.
- iii. The Defendant did not travel to Harare as per the order of the employer.
- iv. The Defendant did not contact the Complainant at the time of receipt of the letter of transfer to communicate any difficulties he was encountering in fulfilling the order given by the employer.
- v. Defendant did not report for duty for a period of more than five days.
- vi. The Complainant did not contact the Defendant directly when he had not reported for duty.

Findings

Charge 1: Contravening 3 (b)(ii) of SI 35/11; 'wilful disobedience to a lawful order given by the employer or a person legally placed in authority above him'.

As indicated in the schedule of agreed facts, the Defendant was transferred from Bulawayo to Harare 'with immediate effect'. The employer did not define this term. The defendant interpreted it to mean the day following after receipt of the letter. On his part, the Defendant avers that upon receipt of the letter, he went to his previous workstation, that is INTELLEGO Bulawayo branch and he alleges that the DA advised him to report to Harare. He avers that this happened on two or three days. However, the Defendant did not adduce any evidence to buttress this averment, even upon being quizzed to present such. He further alleges that he was not told of how he was to travel to Harare so he did not know what to do.

MMC CAPITAL HUMAN RESOURCE GUIDELINE

The Complainant denied that Defendant reported for duty in Bulawayo following his letter transferring him to Harare. He avers that if Defendant reported to Bulawayo, then it was in defiance of the order given. He alleged that the Defendant did not approach him indicating his need for transport for his goods and this had not been done up to the time of his suspension. He alleges that the Defendant wilfully defied the order he was given by the employer to transfer to Harare and that he did not have any reason to behave in such a way. Complainant avers that upon receipt of the letter transferring him, the Defendant was supposed to contact if he had any issues with the transfer and for logistics of the transportation of his goods and himself.

Charge 2: Contravening 3 (b)(vi) of SI 35/11; 'absence from work for a period of 5 or more working days without reasonable excuse'.

This charge arose from more or less the same facts as Charge 1 above. The basis of the charge was that employee absented himself from work for more than five days without reasonable excuse after he was transferred from Bulawayo to Harare.

Complainant alleged that upon being transferred to Harare, the Defendant did not report for duty in Harare from the date of his notification up to the date he was suspended from duty. This, according to the Complainant is a repudiation of the contract of employment by the Defendant.

The Defendant's reasons were as indicated in the first charge above.

Verdict

Having listened to both parties and evaluated the submissions made, it is established that:

1. Defendant did not report for duty for 5 or more working days without an excuse upon his being transferred from Bulawayo to Harare. His averment that he went to the Bulawayo branch office does not hold water. Besides it not supported by any evidence, Defendant did not take necessary steps to ensure that he communicates with his superiors.
2. Defendant did not notify Complainant of any difficulties he was encountering which made it impossible for him to report for duty. In fact it was the Complainant who called the Defendant to establish why he was not reporting for duty after more than five days had lapsed without him reporting for duty. When he was called, Defendant did not raise the issue of money but that he had taken his issues to the lawyers, albeit without evidence that the issue had been raised with the employer and could not be resolved. This is in violation of the grievance procedure contained in the INTELLEGO code of conduct.

The two charges are arising from the same set of facts and hence, I am throwing out the first charge and concentrating on the second charge.

The behaviour of the Defendant point to the fact that he was not willing to continue with the employment relationship. His actions suggest that, in his view, the relationship has been irreparably damaged to the extent that he walked away from the relationship only to seek to sanitize his actions by prematurely approaching his lawyers.

In view of the foregoing, the Defendant is found guilty of the second charge against him; that is he absented himself from work without a reasonable cause.

Mitigation

Defendant requested the following to be considered:

1. Did not have money to travel money to travel to Harare, hence there was no way. Salary for two months had not been paid and relocation allowance was not availed.
2. Transport to carry goods to Harare was not organised by the Employer.
3. Schools had just been opened and there was no way he would transfer kids and get new uniforms and school fees.
4. Employer is victimising him by the transfer without notice.

Aggravation

In aggravation, the Complainant raised the following:

1. Defendant walked away from his contract of employment with the employer.

MMC CAPITAL HUMAN RESOURCE GUIDELINE

2. He did not raise his issues with the employer. He only went to the lawyer without pursuing internal remedies. He did not ask for any funding for his transfer to Harare.
3. He remains and is still defiant about reporting for duty in Harare. This takes away the duty of the employer to run the organisation in the way he sees fit and is in violation of the provisions of the INTELLEGO grievance procedure.

Penalty

After a careful evaluation of the evidence presented, the mitigation proffered and the aggravation presented, the Defendant is hereby dismissed from employment with effect from 8 September 2018, the date when the notice of transfer was received by the Defendant.
